After all, there's only two sides to a political question—the inside and the side the candidate professes to make clear to you.

We're also getting back to the season of the year when the girl who has a comfortable parlor is considered popular.

At the present rate it won't be long now before stealing a bucket of coal will come under the head of grand larceny.

A New York woman wants a divorce because her husband hit her with an axe. Some women are so awful touchy.

LOCALS TAKE FIRST GAME FROM LOMITA

Atkins Looks Good In Box; Allows But Six Hits

"Red" Atkins, pitching instead of the wonder, Bell, did his stuff last Sunday and let the fast Lomita nine down with one run, while his team-mates gathered three off the offerings of Hevle. Although not getting the runs directly off the visiting chucker, his team-mates let them in on loose plays, which counted just the same. Atkins was in hot water two times during the fracas, but by his own cool method pulled himself to safe ground.

Twice Lomita clogged the bases and had a strong hitter at bat, but "Red" never wined an iota, and the result was nil.

Many rooters and some of the visiting players heeled at some of the ump's decisions, but as far as we can see he was pretty even on his bad breaks, each club suffering as much as the other.

The locals gathered seven hits off the offerings of Roy Hevle, W. Thompson, Bill Deal, and Les Grant each copping two, with B. McClain getting the lone one.

Two runs were pushed over in the first inning, both on errors, but would have probably been put over on safe hits, and another in the eighth in the same manner, keeping the home boys out in front during the whole affair.

Mayor Fitzhugh opened the season by throwing the first ball, and made a clean record by slipping over a perfect strike.

A fair crowd was out Sunday to witness the first game, and also first victory of the locals, but more support will be needed so as to put up as fast a brand of ball as was shown last week. With such fast chuckers in the lineup as Atkins and Bell Torrance has a good chance of copping the honors in this division.

Come out next week and watch us keep up the work. The game is announced in another section of the paper.

Here is the report of the damages from last week:

LEGION HOLDS ANOTHER GOOD SHOW

Last Friday night's boxing exhibitions, held under the auspices of the American Legion at the hall at Torrance, brought out the usual large and enthusiastic crowd of fight fans. Matchmaker Murphy brought together several good boys, and the bouts, as a whole, were better than the average.

A special event was staged between two mosquito-weights, Slim Pikers and the Twilight Kid, who showed that they could box cleanly and were willing to mix it to the satisfaction of the crowd. This quarrel resulted in a good draw.

The first regular bout of the evening was between "Sailor" Irish Serico of the U. S. S. Connecticut and Tanni Stassi (gee, what a moniker for a fighter!) of Los Angeles. Tanni got the decision, but he knew he was in a scrap. Serico used himself up by carrying the fight to Stassi in every round.

The second affair was between Nat Cyrus of the Llewellyn Iron Works of Torrance and "Sailor" Noble of Torrance. This whirl resulted in a draw, and was rather a poor exhibition. Noble expended much energy flailing his arms about like a windmill drunk on moonshine. If he had used this energy in placing his socks carefully there would have been a different tale to tell, for Bobby has a wicked kick in each paw.

The fourth spasm ("spasm" is right) was staged between a pair of substitutes, Joe Kelley of Los Angeles, and Pat Rennie of San Pedro. This act was put on in place of the one scheduled between "Battling" Patino and "Sailor" Dave Biss, both of whom had received injuries during the week which prevented their appearance.

Kelley went after Rennie like a hungry bum after a cheese sandwich and in the third round Rennie's seconds threw his towel over the ropes and ended the only poor event of the evening.

Then our "Murph" staged the piece de resistance (get that, fellows—it's French) of the evening. This fracas was caused by two very good little men getting together—"Sailor" Eddie Buell of the U. S. S. Connecticut, and Teddy Ayres of Los Angeles. Buell fought here at the last session three weeks ago, and was so good that he made "Bat" Patino step high, wide and handsome to keep out of reach of his high-speed gloves. Buell is one of those rare birds of the ring who has the faculty of using his brains. He is a smooth worker doing no arm calisthenics or fancy steps to try to scare his opponent, but is always on the lookout for an opening, taking advantage so quickly and with such good effect that his opponent is bewildered, and were it not for his speed he would receive much punishment.

During the first round both boys went out cautiously, feeling out for weak spots. After a couple of minutes of sparring Buell, without warning, unlimbered three in a row to the body and the right to the jaw, and Ayres took the count of nine. It so surprised him that he fought cautiously for the balance of the round.

During the other three rounds, Buell outfought Ayres from every angle, hitting him as he pleased and several times had Ayres hanging on the ropes covering up. The decision went to Buell and was well received.

These two boys will meet again at the next tournament on November 17, and will perform in the main event.

The wind-up of the evening proved a disappointment to the fans. Sam Kaspar and "Sailor" Polly Rollins of the Connecticut were scheduled to go four rounds, but after an exhibition of how to be rough on the part of both the boys, Kaspar lost the decision on a foul, hitting Rollins low, in the second round. The blow sent Rollins to the mat for eight counts, but at the end of the round his seconds protested, and the referee gave Rollins the decision.

Matchmaker Murphy has promised the fans several good bouts for the next show, and if he keeps on improving these seances the Legion will have to call in a few carpenters.

WHERE DO THEY GET IT? Fifty dollars was added to the city's treasury Saturday when the bail of two men arrested for being intoxicated was declared forfeited by Police Judge King, when they failed to appear before him Saturday, the date set for their hearing.

PEDDLER IS FINED Two peddlers, who, it is alleged have been operating in Torrance for some time without having obtained the proper license, were arrested Saturday by Officer Anderson, and one of them pleading guilty was fined $18.00, the amount of an annual license. The case of the other was continued until today.

SULPHUR CLEARS A PIMPLY SKIN

Apply Sulphur as Told When Your Skin Breaks Out

Any breaking out of the skin on face, neck, arms or body is overcome quickest by applying Mentho-Sulphur. The pimples seem to dry right up and go away, declares a noted skin specialist. Nothing has ever been found to take the place of sulphur as a pimple remover. It is harmless and inexpensive. Just ask any druggist for a small jar of Rowles Mentho-Sulphur and use it like cold cream.

Longwinded Fight Ends In Arrest

As a result of a fist fight staged last week between two Armenian employes of the Llewellyn Iron Works, one is a fit subject for the hospital and the other has been arrested and is now at liberty on bail of $100.

While swearing to a complaint Albet Sarukian informed Police Judge King that he was severely beaten by Tom Ketchoff, a brother Armenian, following a dispute over work at the Llewellyn Iron Works where both are employed. Appearing before the police judge with a badly disfigured face as a result of the brawl, Sarukian said that while the fight began in Torrance, the last and most disastrous round took place in Hermosillo.

Ketchoff was arrested in Los Angeles by city officers and brought to Torrance, where he pleaded not guilty, his trial being set for November 17 at 10 a. m. Later he was released upon the deposit of $100 bail money.

Meizner Takes In Partner

A. W. Meizner, proprietor of the El Prado Cafe, in Torrance, has recently sold a half interest in the business to Stanley B. Abbott, the partnership taking effect November 1.

Mr. Abbott, the new partner, is not a stranger to this city, having been employed for some time in the Union Tool plant, where he has a host of friends. He recently paid a visit to his old home in Troy, N. Y., but like thousands of others who return east after living in California, he decided that this state, and particularly Torrance, was the real "white spot" on the commercial and climatic map, with the result of his hurrying back and investing in his present lucrative business.

SWIM AT REDONDO

Swimming is one of the best exercises to keep one fit and in good physical condition, and if one learns to swim correctly and scientifically every muscle is brought into play thus insuring an all-around development not obtained by any other method of exercise. It develops the chest, expands the lungs and gives one grace and poise, and also strengthens the functions of the stomach and other organs.

It is very beneficial to those of a high-strung or nervous temperament. The gentle exercise of swimming invigorates the system and puts the body in such a state of purity that it offers no foothold for the germs of disease. It has also a strengthening and refreshing influence on body and mind.

It is especially useful to the growing boy and girl, and as the nation's most valuable asset is its children, they should have every opportunity for a health-giving exercise, so that they may grow up strong and healthy men and women. The exercise of swimming, above all others, is believed to be the one which reduces or builds up flesh according to the lack or over-supply of the one who becomes a devotee of the water.
